

Brittany Lynn

Term 1601

Section 02

My mission is to graduate from Full Sail's Mobile Development degree program able to program exceptionally well so that I may build an application that helps people manage their lives. I will do this by staying focused and completing all of my assignments to the best of my ability, which will allow me to graduate. My passion and determination to help others using an app I develop will allow me to stay focused and my perseverance will allow me to complete all necessary work.

TEM Mission Statement

My mission is to graduate from the Mobile Development degree program with full working knowledge of how to create any application or program I want from start to finish. I will accomplish this through my attentiveness, carefulness, inquisitiveness, and obedience. My attentiveness will make sure that I am checking in on my classes daily for new announcements or updates. My carefulness will guide me to good grades by making sure that I read my rubrics carefully. My inquisitiveness will make sure that I learn everything I need to through asking questions of my teachers and my peers. Lastly, my obedience will ensure that I take my assignments seriously, no matter their size. These four values will allow me to graduate with the knowledge I need to build the apps that I can only dream of right now.
